

How we help.

In addition to the professional development services that guide craft artists through matters of insurance, safety, health and career management, we also offer many forms of financial emergency relief assistance.

- No-interest loans
- Grants for craft artists facing career-threatening illness or injury
- Grants for craft artists directly affected by significant disasters
- Booth-fee waivers at wholesale and retail shows
- Donations of supplies and equipment
- A network of individuals and businesses committed to supporting craft artists in times of crisis.

How you can help.

CERF is supported by various businesses, foundations, publishers, the National Endowment for the Arts and individuals like you. Whether it's through a tax deductible donation or by volunteering your time, the support we provide craft artists is made possible through your contributions.

To learn more about CERF, the services we offer or how you can help, please visit us online at craftemergency.org.

- You have my permission to send me CERF information and news via email.
- I do not wish to receive the bi-annual publication, cerfnews.
- I do not wish to have my donation acknowledged in CERF publications
- Please do not share my name with others.
- I have included CERF in my will.
- I would like information about making a planned gift to CERF
- Enclosed is my gift and matching gift from my company or spouse/partner.
- I want to volunteer. Please contact me if a CERF-related event is happening in my area.
